THE TEST THAT TELLS

Is the Test Of Time. Many Norway People Have Made This Test

Years ago this Norway citizen told in a public statement, the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Norway reader demand more convincing proof? It's Norway testimony—it may be investigated.

C. E. Bradford, prop. of laundry, Main St., says: "For some time I had a dull pain through the small of my back, together with a tired feeling. I couldn't rest well either, when a friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at F. P. Stone's Drug Store. After I used two boxes, the pains and other symptoms disappeared and there was a great improvement in every way. I have had no kidney trouble since."

Four years later Mr. Bradford added: "I still have confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as it hasn't been necessary for me to use a kidney medicine since I took them."

"THERE'S A MOUSE IN THE MEAL"

"When the old cat's away, the mice will play." We've always heard it said that way. We see this truth on every hand. Unchallenged therefore, let it stand.

Our cat looked off on other fields. That mice in great abundance grow. And thought, "Ah me! a great work is there! Should they not have my watchful care?"

And so he went, intent on good. To clear the mice, as good cats should. To catch every mouse that chance might roam. But traps can't watch or follow mice.

So here's what happened in a trice: The mice, to feast, rushed here with speed. For watchful cat, how great our need! We'll eat, and eat, and then destroy; We'll show that cat we are no toy.

The cat returns, but we are o'er run; Behind the mischief that has been done! The golden meal unfit for use, The sacks, gnawed up, show great abuse.

God gave the sun for grain to grow; He sent the rain, His care to show; He tolled from light till set of sun. That grain fit for meal, should become.

And now the mice, on mischief bent, Have spoiled that on which such care was spent. But simply here for lust and greed. Oh, mice beware, you've gone too far.

You've done too much the good to men. Now surely swiftly you must go. For those you wrong, have willed it so.

of Need." Special music by the choir.

Preparations are going on for the annual roll call and supper in the vestry

Thursday evening, Nov. 13. Every year this gathering has proved one of the most helpful events given by the church.

Mrs. M. O. Baltzer's class of young ladies subject "The Three M's," met with their teacher at the personal go Tuesday evening for a business and social meeting. The following officers were elected and committees chosen:

President—Elizabeth Bartlett.

Vice President—Elizabeth Welch.

Elsie Smith.

Nominating Com.—Lauretta Foster, Elsie

Smith, Grover.

Mrs. Baltzer's Assistant at Junior C. E.—

Thelma Grover.

The Hallowe'en party given Friday evening under the auspices of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society was a successful. Ghosts stalked about the vestry and led the grand march in subdued light cost by Jack Lantieri and colored incandescent bulbs. Various stunts were tried much to the discomfort of the unsuccessful victims. Mrs. Fred Hosmer, as a typical gypsy palmer, enlightened many with strange predictions, as observed in the lines of their hands. The story, "The Haunted House," based on strange events which transpired one hundred and nineteen years ago, was told by W. S. Chandler. Refreshments were served.

"Everybody go to church Sunday, Nov.

16," is the slogan. The drive is on with a determination to go over the top in a glorious assault on that date. Special effort will be made to arrange an attractive and helpful service to meet the needs of all.

Methodist Church Notes

The subject for the morning sermon will be "The Unpardonable Sin." In the evening the sub. will be "Going into Business."

The Junior League will meet in the vestry at 3.30 Sunday afternoon, and the Senior Epworth League will meet at 6.30.

The men's class in the Sunday School will be in charge of the annual reunion of the 10th. A. Amusement will be given.

Now on and a special effort is being made to organize a strong men's Bible class.

There will be a rehearsal of the choir this Saturday evening at 7.30.

A good audience greeted Mrs. Mary Baillie Bartlett Friday evening and fully enjoyed the entertainment of readings and pantomime, after which a large number gathered in the vestry where a pleasant evening was spent in games and music.

The pastor has put out cards advertising a series of sermons for the month of November. These cards were to have been distributed last month but were not in time. The subject for the evening of the 10th, "A. Amusement," will be

"Your Money or Your Life," the 30th,

"Choosing One's Friends."

Thursday evening Elizabeth Hall entertained ten of her school mates. The azz was lighted with jack o' lanterns and the entrance was guarded by a ghost. The house was prettily decorated in orange and black, with emblems of the Hallowe'en season. Refreshments were served in the dining room where the table decorations were very dainty. The electric light globes were covered with orange paper, making a pretty glow through the rooms. Music and games were in order.

Elizabeth B. McIntire went to Portland

Saturday to attend the annual reunion of the Alumni of Bridgton Academy.

Mrs. Frank DeCoster spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. Z. F. Durkee.

B. G. McIntire is in Springfield, Mass., for a few days.

Z. L. Merchant acquired Tuesday of

W. P. Senter of Brunswick, the Abbott block, where the Z. L. Merchant dry goods store has been located in Norway during the past few years. Several changes are contemplated to include improvements on the second floor. Mr. and Mrs. Merchant will occupy rooms in the flat over the store within a short time.

Mrs. E. C. Foster went to Springfield, Mass., Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Perley Russell and Marjorie Le-brooke attended the teachers' convention at Portland, Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. William Gately and Dorothy have returned to their home in South Portland after spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Merrill.

Mrs. Henry Russell is visiting at Jessie

Edwards' a few days.

Several from this place attended the Hallowe'en party and dance at the Club house, Friday evening. All reported a fine time.

Mrs. E. C. Merrill is working for Albert

Richardson.

Milletville and Crockett Ridge

The Community Union Sunday School

met at Milletville schoolhouse Sunday and the large attendance was gratifying.

The Red and Blue Contest is in full swing and it is so close that already Mrs. Lois

Jackson, captain of the Blues, and Mrs.

Addie Thurston, captain of the Reds, are both making out their menu. The Junior class is a large one and six or more will graduate into the Intermediate this year.

The young men's class has been the banner class thus far but the Junior class is taking the banner this quarter. A Christmas celebration is being planned this early because Santa Claus grows busier each year.

Allie Noble brought home a fine deer

Friday and everyone around had to have a look.

Bradlee Willis came from Hebron to spend the week end. The autoing Sunday on his trip was like dredging a channel most of the way.

Fred Lovejoy is in Mason superintending the laying of new trails and bridges in the forests about his father's with him for a few days' vacation at hunting. Some smart hunter at his age!

Mrs. W. Walter Bradley of New York

City has been spending a few weeks with her sister-in-law, Mrs. S. I. Jackson on the farm, but the early snow storm has frightened her back to the city.

Stanley Thurston is at home from the

Mrs. Elmer Morrill is at home once more and doing very well.

Harry Millett and family and Mary Millett visited their sister, Mrs. Harry Patch of West Paris, who is to go to the C. M. G. Hospital on Wednesday for surgery. They found her in good spirits.

Lindsay Morse is in Portland on a vacations.

The Heywood Club gave a Hallowe'en

Social on Friday last at the Club House.

The decorations were appropriate green and red with pumpkin Jack-o'-lanterns everywhere. Mrs. Fred Noble presided, received the guests in which costume and later read an original poem. Mrs. Sarah Farnum had charge of the "Fats" and sold sandwiches, pie, doughnuts, cookies, cake and coffee. Mrs. Addie Young had charge of a large woolen pit or nose quilt, which was sold by post cards. Mrs.

Hattie Crocker Adams held the lucky cake was sold at auction for the ridiculous sum of $1.00 to Reginald Dinsmore.

It is thought the lucky cake has been so people have forgotten what it is and so let a prize slip away so cheaply. Novel

Brown gave two violin solos with encores and the Noble sisters sang a laughable song. Mrs. Sol Jackson sang Kentucky

Dream and Bill We Meet again, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bradley, as accompanist. The party was a great success every way, especially the last hours when Mel-lie violin drew the crowd to their feet for dance after dance.

HIRAM

Penderster-Day

Saturday afternoon a wedding took place at Lake View Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton E. Day, in Cornish, when their daughter, Edith, was united in marriage to John W. Penderster of the bride's brother, Alvin, and her sister, Cybil, acted as best man and bridesmaid. The single ring service was used. The Rev. George C. Smith officiated.

Relatives and friends attended in large numbers in the evening when games were played and refreshments served.

KEEP LIVE STOCK COMFORTABLE

As far as it is possible for them to do so, it is the duty of owners of domestic animals to keep them comfortable. It is a moral wrong to allow needless suffering.

Self-interest also demands that owners take good care of their live stock. Comfort favors growth and production and tends to keep down the cost of maintenance. Discomfort tends to increase the cost of keeping and to diminish the returns which can be made therefrom. It is not necessary to note briefly some of the principal things which are necessary to insure the comfort of farm animals.

Food, of course, is essential. This must be of kinds which are suited to the classes of animals to which it is given. What

EAST STONEHAM

John B. Woodman, who died Tuesday, Oct. 28 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harold N. French at Salem, Mass., was born in Stoneham, May 12th, 1838. He was the son of Joseph and Mary (Bodwell) Woodman.

He served with the Maine troops in the Civil War and then located in Lynn, Mass., where he became a member of Gen. Landers Post No. 5, G. A. R. and East Lynn, No. 207, I. O. O. F.

After the death of his wife, he went to Salem and lived at the home of his daughter.

Because of the sugar shortage in some restaurants, the little sugar envelope containing two spoonfuls of sweetness have necessarily disappeared. Claim is still out that the situation will be less acute in a few months. That may depend whether there are any limitations on the soaring price of sugar and the supply after Dec. 31. A bill recently sent to the senate asks for Federal control of commerce in sugar until Dec. 31, 1920. A license system for sugar dealers is also proposed and those violating regulations of the equalization board would be subject to $5,000 and two years imprisonment. The feeling is that without regulation of some sort, prices will be advanced to an exorbitant amount, a new supply will be obtained from some apparently unforeseen source.

WHY GEN. PERSHING'S HORSE WAS HELD IN QUARANTINE

"Kidron," the horse that Gen. Pershing rode to victory in the World War, began his career as a laurel wreath collector by getting in quarantine.

The great commander is playing the leading role in triumph parade in the big cities of the country, his war horse is detained, under observation by Government veterinarians, at Newport News.

It is not that "Kidron," so far as anybody knows, has any "catching disease," but simply that he may have any equine disease, and like every other horse of the A. E. F., must stay at the port of entry for five months, until the Government veterinarians know that he is a safe animal to be at large in horse society in the United States.

Naturally, a great many people wanted to see Gen. Pershing mounted on the horse that carried him over the battlefields of Europe during the last fateful days of the world's greatest war. But there are many millions of horses and horse owners in the United States who, respectfully as they feel toward "Kidron," are entitled to protection from any disease that he may have picked up in Europe, where there are many horse diseases of which the United States has thus far, kept clear.

When the appeal was made, without the knowledge of Gen. Pershing, to the United States Department of Agriculture that an exception be made "Kidron" and that he be allowed to come out of quarantine almost immediately after landing, in order that he might be in Washington for the parade on September 17, a regretful but firm refusal was the result.

The position taken by the Department of Agriculture is that, under no circumstances, can sentiment be permitted to interfere with the protective measures that have been worked out, slowly and sometimes precariously, for the protection of the livestock interests of the country.

If "Kidron" were released from quarantine, he would probably visit scores of cities throughout the country, and if he had a disease, might spread it, beyond all reasonable possibility of eradication.

For these reasons the Department of Agriculture thought it wise not to create any sort of favored status for him.

This is not the first time such a situation has occurred. When Gen. Leonard Wood was ready to return from the Philippines, he had two horses that he very much desired to keep with him. The department of Agriculture insisted that safety demanded their detention.

President Roosevelt took a personal interest in the matter, but investigation convinced him of the justice of the department's position, and the horses did not come in.

FRRIENDSHIP AND SUCCESS
"Do I make friends or enemies? The answer to this question is also the answer to whether or not I am a success." Success, while depending largely on one's own unsupported efforts, can never be altogether achieved without the incidental help of others. In like manner the downfall of the most successful can easily be accomplished by the sinister designs of those who hate us.

The Spanish have an old proverb to the effect that there is no little enemy. In other words, the bad will of even the humblest and most despised of "little" enemies has the power to cause the ruin of a man.

We never seem to learn the lesson of the value of friends though from childhood's earliest days our parents have sought to instill it into us by songs and fables. The lion and the mouse is illustrated daily in life around us.

We know from our own personal experience that the friend in need is the friend indeed, though perhaps in the pride of "early youth" we may have been prone to the old proverb and stories, trite, tiresome and out of date.

"Politeness is the flower of charity" is another old proverb well founded on fact. It costs little to be courteous, considerate of others, deferential to our elders, to use the "kind word which turns away wrath," to smile instead of frown, it is all a part of true politeness and indeed the result of divine charity. It wins us friends wherever we go, and if there is no little enemy so much the more surely is there no little friend.

Popularity in the ordinary sense in which we hear this word used and abused by those around may seem to have an empty meaning, but in its deeper, fuller and truer meaning it is highly to be desired and sought after. To be liked and admired universally is hardly possible for us average human beings, and in one way to have not a single enemy is scarcely to be desired, since it betokens rather a limp and negative personality. Nevertheless, it is sad to see so many young people starting out in life with ruthless indifference to the feelings and sensibilities of those around them, making enemies on all sides.

In youth we are very prone to think that we are sufficient to ourselves. We have our own small interests and pleasures which loom very large and important in our eyes and which, but for the narrowness of our interests and pleasures of others.

Though we may enjoy companionship we seldom seek or value friendship until the coming of the fears of their gentle truth upon our characters, to broaden and change our sympathies, to increase our love for our fellowmen and to make us long for and seek their friendship in return.

Bodies of all American soldiers interred in Germany, Belgium, Italy, Great Britain, Luxembourg and Northern Russia will be returned to the United States as soon as necessary transportation can be arranged.

Such bodies are being today arranged, storage and traffic division of the general staff to take charge of the matter and to hasten it as much as possible. This action, Mrs. Baker said, did not indicate any change in the department's attitude toward the return of the soldier dead in France.

Secretary Baker said it was hoped that the great majority of American parents would decide to let their children remain here, but that the wishes of the relatives desiring the bodies returned would be carried out.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eames and family quoness out of all proportion to the enemy we may have felt.

We never seem to learn the lesson of the value of friends though from childhood's earliest days our parents have sought to instill it into us by songs and fables. The lion and the mouse is illustrated daily in life around us.

We know from our own personal experience that the friend in need is the friend indeed, though perhaps in the pride of "early youth" we may have been prone to the old proverb and stories, trite, tiresome and out of date.

"Politeness is the flower of charity" is another old proverb well founded on fact. It costs little to be courteous, considerate of others, deferential to our elders, to use the "kind word which turns away wrath," to smile instead of frown, it is all a part of true politeness and indeed the result of divine charity. It wins us friends wherever we go, and if there is no little enemy so much the more surely is there no little friend.

Popularity in the ordinary sense in which we hear this word used and abused by those around may seem to have an empty meaning, but in its deeper, fuller and truer meaning it is highly to be desired and sought after. To be liked and admired universally is hardly possible for us average human beings, and in one way to have not a single enemy is scarcely to be desired, since it betokens rather a limp and negative personality. Nevertheless, it is sad to see so many young people starting out in life with ruthless indifference to the feelings and sensibilities of those around them, making enemies on all sides.

In youth we are very prone to think that we are sufficient to ourselves. We have our own small interests and pleasures which loom very large and important in our eyes and which, but for the narrowness of our interests and pleasures of others.

Though we may enjoy companionship we seldom seek or value friendship until the coming of the fears of their gentle truth upon our characters, to broaden and change our sympathies, to increase our love for our fellowmen and to make us long for and seek their friendship in return.

Bodies of all American soldiers interred in Germany, Belgium, Italy, Great Britain, Luxembourg and Northern Russia will be returned to the United States as soon as necessary transportation can be arranged.

Such bodies are being today arranged, storage and traffic division of the general staff to take charge of the matter and to hasten it as much as possible. This action, Mrs. Baker said, did not indicate any change in the department's attitude toward the return of the soldier dead in France.

Secretary Baker said it was hoped that the great majority of American parents would decide to let their children remain here, but that the wishes of the relatives desiring the bodies returned would be carried out.

"Norway Run by Women"

We received the following letter recently written by Mrs. Anna Reinholdsen of Zion, Ill. "I picked up a piece of a magazine by the name of 'The Nautilus' and it is an article 'The Suffragist'

As a Business Woman' and it tells about a little town of Norway, Maine, that is run entirely by women. It interested me as I was born in Norway, Europe.

I would like to see Norway, Maine, before I go back. It would please me if you would write me about the place and how to get there."

In answer to this unusual letter we told her as best we could how she could reach Norway, Maine, using as our starting point Montreal or Portland, and also told her what a beautiful and enterprising little village Norway is, located near the shadow of Pike's Hill and by the shores of one of the most beautiful lakes,

Lake Penesseewassee. As for the women entirely running the town, we merely said that we thought the men had just a little to do with town affairs, calling to mind some of the Board of Trade businesses of the past year when town topics were discussed; also scenes at the town meetings the past year. Then we requested that she send us the article referred to. The article has arrived and is as follows: "Chicago is not the only place where women manage the difficult matters usually left to the sterner brethren for the little town of Norway, Maine, is run entirely by women, and one can go from the cradle to the grave in this village without ever buying, giving an order to, or having any of his needs attended to by any hand save that of a woman.

"Miss Grace Thayer is a licensed undertaker; Mrs. L. L. Gilbert is manager of a meat market; Mrs. Laura A. Sanborn is proprietor of a daily newspaper; Miss Margaret Baker is a justice of the peace and performs marriage ceremonies; Miss Stella Pike has been cashier of the Norway National Bank for twenty-one years and Miss Jennie Baker is manager of one of the two dry goods houses, both of which are successfully operated by women. In a town where men are so obviously unnecessary to run the place in approved fashion, women are, of course, advocates of the franchise and what is more, have every expectation of receiving it. It is the one thing they look to men to give them, and they are very sure that it is merely a question of time."

How some of the country's suffragettes have been booming Norway's suffragette tendencies! We fear Mrs. Reinholdsen will be some jolted when she comes to see so many men on the street of Norway, if she makes her visit here. She is expecting to see a petticoated village with only a man or two in mother-bulldog doing the wife's work while the woman is engaged in business.

We fear for the suffragettes' rule of the country if they all return to domestic duties as our Norway women have, who have been idealized country wide as a true example for the promotion of woman suffrage. At the present time Miss Thayer still is a licensed undertaker and is assisted by a man, Ed. Jones by name, and the firm is in South Paris as it always has been. Mrs. L. L. Gilbert has returned to domestic life and is keeping house for her husband, Louis I. Gilbert, on Beal street, while he runs the market as he always did. Laura A. Sanborn has succeeded to the front of her husband's business and runs the daily paper, the Norway Lifter. "The daily paper" referred to has become a weekly (which it has always been) and is edited by Ed. Jones and his wife, Mrs. Ed. Jones, who is a typewriter and the versatile scribe, Walter

Chandler, with the aid of a few more men and three girls who are not suffragettes.

Miss Margaret Baker is still at the head of justice of the peace and two,

Stanley Wheeler and Robert Wheeler, have been taken into the firm of W. J.

Wheeler &amp; Co. of which Miss Baker is a member. Miss Stella Pike resigned her position as cashier (a title she did not have) in favor of Fred E. Smith.

Miss Pike has moved to Old Orchard and is enjoying life in a cottage by the sea with her sister, keeping house.

Miss Jennie Baker has retired from the field as manager of a department store and Albin L. Buck has taken up the reins and is now one of the owners of the firm.

The other department store referred to is the S. B. &amp; Z. S. Prince store, formerly owned by Stella and Zilpha Prince, has been sold to Z. L. Marchant and he has as a right hand man, a young man by the name of Herman Lewis from Albany. The Prince sisters are planning to locate in the West as soon as health will permit.

The little town of Norway where men were "so obviously unnecessary" has found the necessity of men as well as women. "The one thing they looked to a man for" as the article says, the franchise.

If the suffragettes or suffragists who were howling up and down the country and using Norway as the example of a woman's town are not convinced, Norway is a man's town, we will go into detail and show them that "mere man" is still alive in town and hustling to care for the wants of the women as men should, to supply them with the pleasures of life.

Callus? "Gets-It" Will Peel It Off!

Nothing on Earth Like Simple "Gets-It" for Corns or Calluses.

A callus, or thickened skin on the sole of the foot, which often makes walking a misery is of the same nature as a corn. "Gets-It" will be able to peel it off with your fingers, in one complete piece just as you would a banana peel. It leaves the skin free and smooth as though you never had a callus. You need no more tawdry plasters, sticky tape, "package" bandages, knives or scissors for corns or calluses. "Gets-It" is the national corn remover, the biggest on earth, used by millions. It never fails. You'll work, play and dance at ease in spite of corns.

"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mrs. Wm. E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Norway and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. F. Stone.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads; they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter, and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

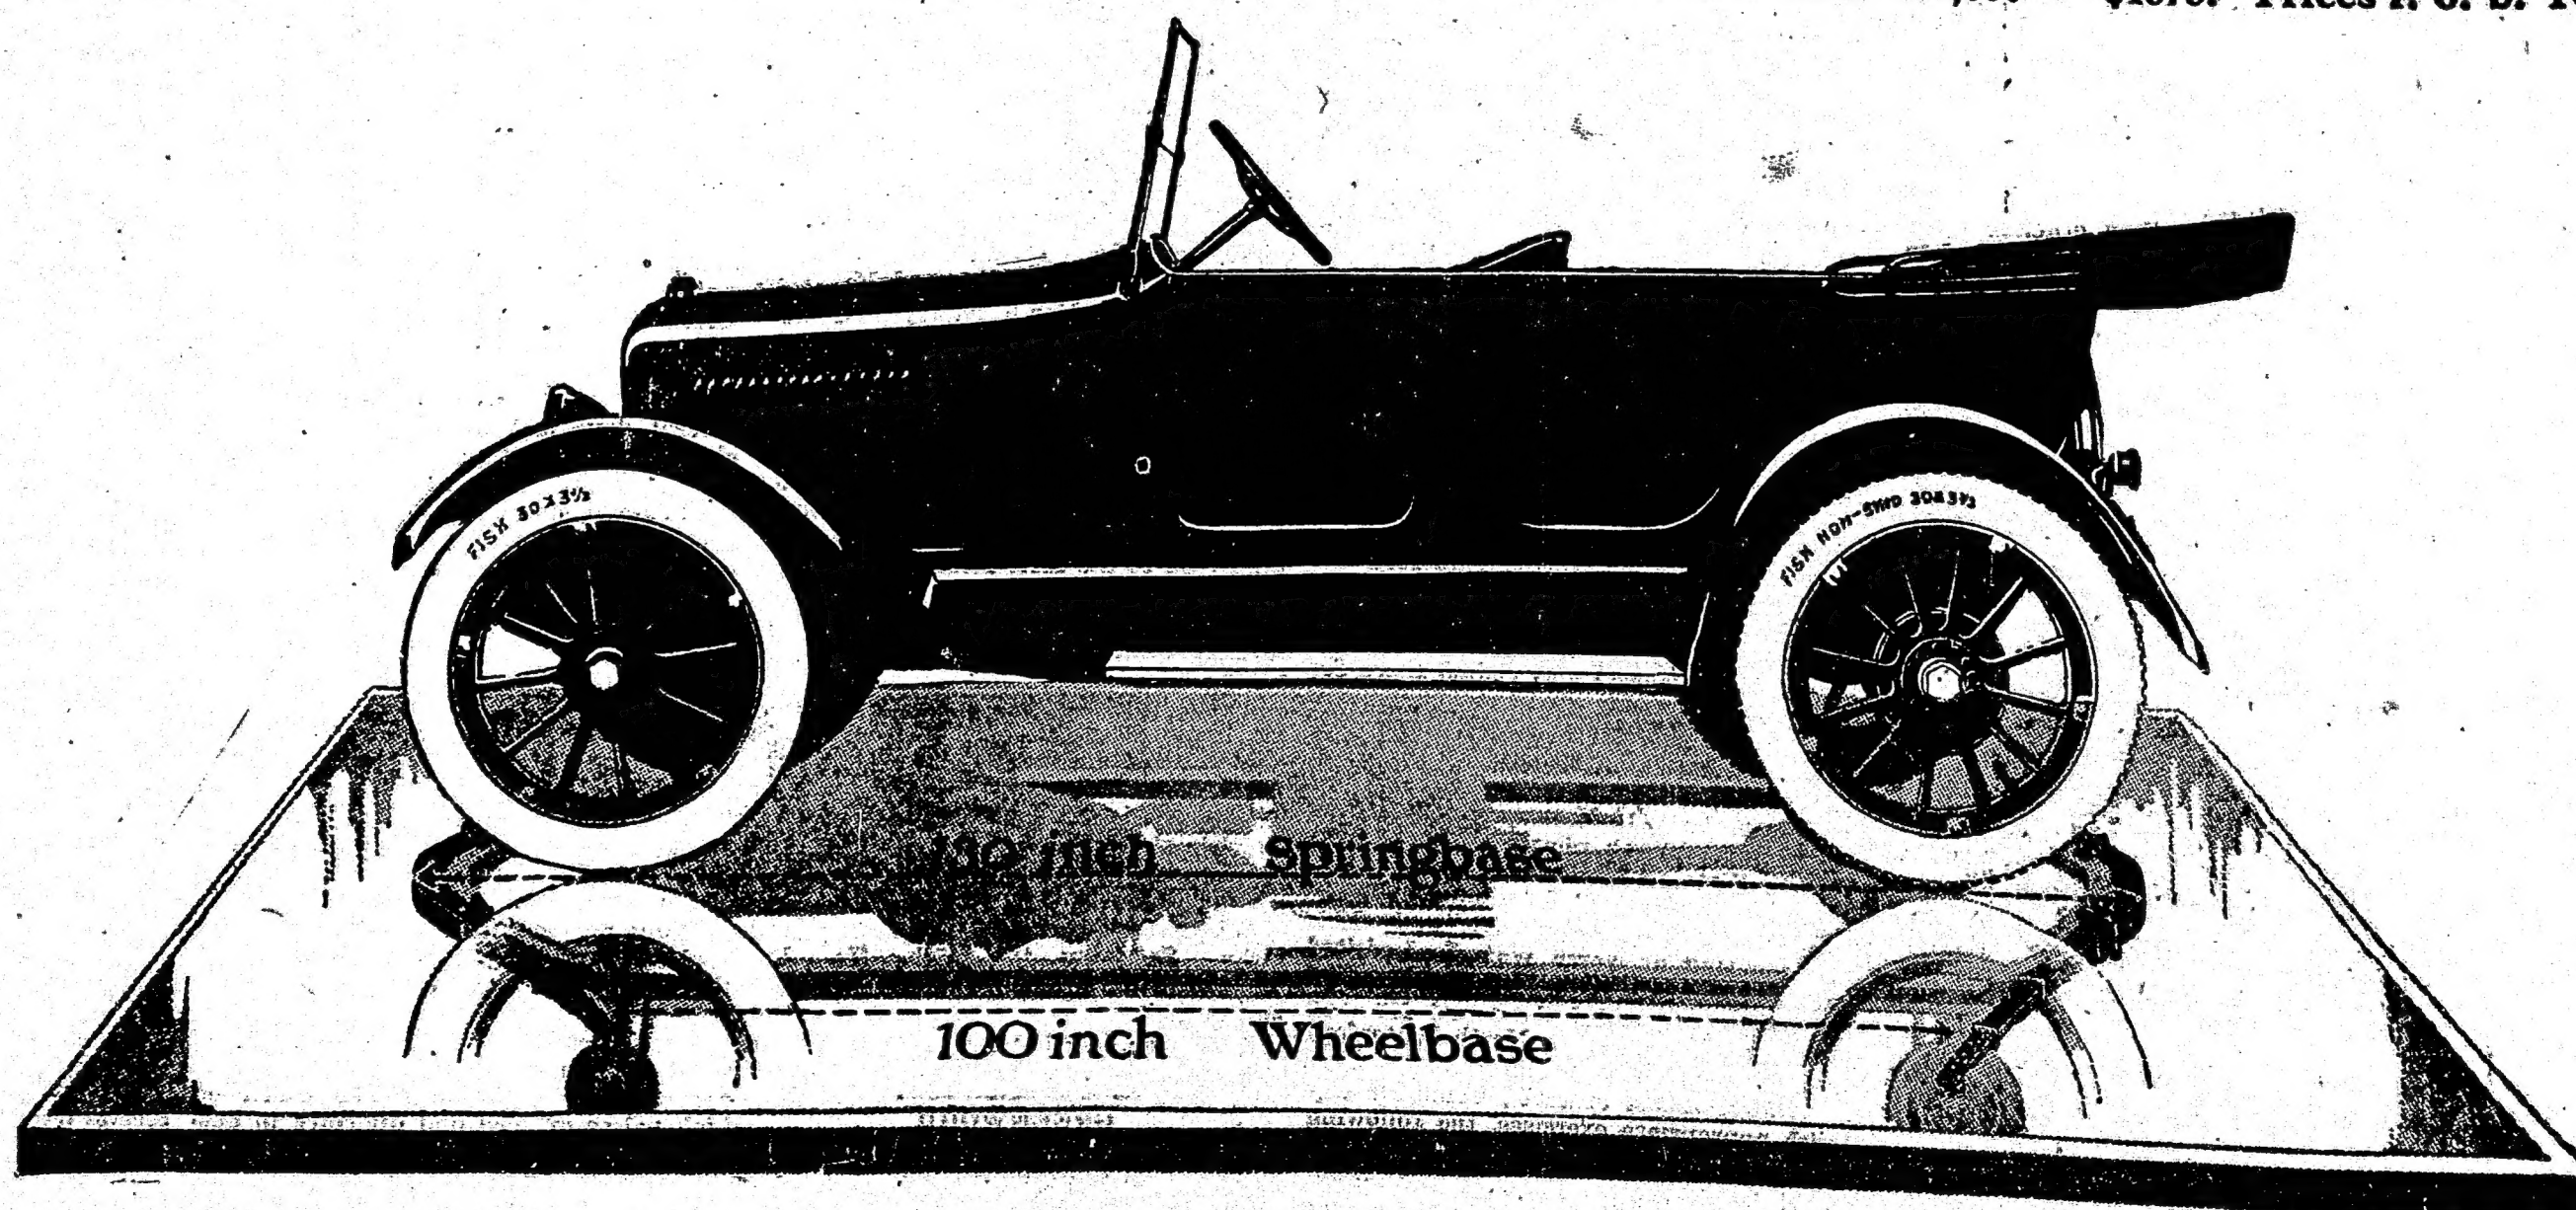

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Shot Three Bears

While out looking for wild cattle, W. H. Smith and his nephew found a bear asleep and snoring in a big fir tree. Being without firearms, Mr. Smith acted as custodian while the nephew ran for a rifle. For nearly an hour Mr. Smith kept the bear in the tree by striking together two large stones and emitting savage yells.

It was some time before he discovered two cubs higher in the tree and then he realized that here most certainly would be one wild race if the bear once landed on the ground. With the odds in favor of the bear, Mr. Smith was about to make a quick getaway when the nephew returned with a 32 Winchester. Mr. Smith then coolly picked off all three with his trusty gun.
